Commission Policy Overview

At Dynapro, our new commission structure is designed to incentivize collaboration across departments while rewarding individual initiative and performance.

This system encourages cross-functional support between Sales, Key Account Specialists, Application Engineers, and Field Service Technicians to drive new business and deliver better outcomes for our clients.

Key objectives of this policy include:

-  Promoting proactive selling across all roles by recognizing and rewarding new opportunities generated internally or through field intelligence.
-  Improving communication and role clarity, ensuring that every team member understands when and how commission is earned.
-  Simplifying the structure by offering straightforward percentages that are easy to track and calculate.
-  Strengthening accountability, with all opportunities documented and tracked in HubSpot and subject to management review.
-  Ensuring timely payments, with commissions paid only after full client payment is received and roles meet the documented criteria.

This policy reinforces our core values of teamwork, transparency, and results—building a fair and motivating system that supports growth and rewards high performance.

3. Self-prospected opportunities must be clearly documented, including outreach records (calls, emails, meetings) in HubSpot.
4. Quotations, technical selections, and recommendations must meet quality, margin, and timeline requirements to qualify.
5. Collusion to involve other team members solely for commission gain—without a legitimate business need—is strictly prohibited and considered grounds for termination.
6. All participants in commission manipulation or falsification will forfeit their commissions and be subject to disciplinary action.
7. Commission disputes will be resolved by the leadership team, whose decision is final.

All Positions – Commission Policy Rules & Regulations

9. Commissions will not be paid on freight. If the total sale includes freight to site, freight and administration will be deducted from the sale amount
10. If there are administrative errors, errors with entering the wrong shipping address, etc. no commissions will be paid
11. If there is deliberate lack of communication between our teams identified because individuals want to hold commissions for themselves, no commissions will be paid. This is a team effort and incentive to provide the best service to our clients!
12. Commissions are only for SALES ACTIVITIES:
outreaching to the clients, helping the client identify the right selections, guiding the clients to provide the right data, presentations, following up with phone calls and then emails.
Doing your regular job that you receive a salary for is not a commissionable action. (making a quote, receiving and responding to an order, receiving an order from a contract that was sold by someone else)
13. Prepaid orders are only applicable for commission once the products are fully delivered and approved by the client
14. Commission rules and regulation change dates make that day, the new commission rate for anything received to reduce complexity. If it causes a SIGNIFICANT difference in commissions, it can be challenged, however since changes can cause increases and decreases, this is not going to be a normal practice

Administrative activities are non-commissionable
